The main application, four workspace entry points and cleanup are deployed. GitHub quality and production health checks passed. Only real account access, property evidence and account preferences remain below.

1. Finish fresh administrator sign-in

The account you explicitly selected has been promoted to technical administrator and can enter the administrator, maintenance and owner workspaces. Sign in again using its existing password; old tokens retain their previous role. Do not share the password in chat.

2. Identify a separate resident account when needed

You approved promoting the organization's only resident login. Its identity, tenancy and tickets were preserved, but that login now has an administrator role and cannot submit resident reports. Supply the intended separate resident email and correct membership details if you want to continue resident-mode testing. No replacement account or identity was invented.

3. Supply approved policy documents

Provide the actual approved maintenance policies and confirm the available in-house trades. The assistant can prepare versioned sources and exact citation spans. Without approved evidence, the live agent saves reports and safely abstains; synthetic test documents must not be imported.

4. Confirm backup and spending preferences

Confirm Supabase backup retention and restore arrangements available on your actual plan, plus model-provider spend limits and alert recipients. Runtime credentials do not prove these account-level preferences. No paid upgrade was purchased.
